WEDDING BELLS

CREASY — PEDEL.

On June 16, Sharon Lutheran Church was the scene of a pretty wedding when Miss Madeline (Bessie) Pedel, younger daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Pedel, Irma, became the bride of Mr. Edward Brian Creasy, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Creasy of Hardisty.

Deep red peonies decorated the altar for the ceremony performed by Pastor Claude Magee. Other seasonal flowers were used throughout the church, and guest pews were marked with white, yellow, mauve and pink ribbons.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a full-length gown of white nylon net and lace, featuring a bouffant skirt, and a long-sleeved bolero with peter-pan collar, and complemented with a chapel veil. The bridal bouquet was fashioned of red roses and stephanotis.

Mrs. Allan Connolly, sister of the bride, was matron of honor, and Mrs. Kenneth Sutter, sister of the groom, was bridesmaid. They wore floor-length gowns of yellow and mauve respectively, with matching chapel veils held in place by a bandeau of flowers. They carried colonial bouquets of carnations.

Nieces of the groom, Lynn Drever of Hardisty and Leslie Creasy of Irma were flower girls, dressed in pink and aqua nylon frocks, with matching little veils held in place by a bandeau of flowers. They carried petite baskets of shasta daisies.

Brothers of the groom, Messrs. David and Allan Creasy of Hardisty were groomsmen. Ushers were Mr. Arthur Pedel, brother of the bride, and Mr. Donald Creasy.

Mrs. Marvin Reitan played the wedding music, and Mr. Erling Nilsson sang, "O Perfect Love."

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Pedel chose a navy dress with white hat and accessories, complemented with a corsage of pink carnations.

For the reception for over a hundred guests, the bride's table was laid with a linen cloth. The wedding cake, baked and beautifully decorated by Mrs. H. Riley, was placed on a lace centrepiece, and flanked by tall tapers.

Mr. Alex Smallwood as toastmaster, proposed the toast to the bride, to which the groom responded. The toastmaster also called on several friends and relatives for a few words.

Mrs. Graham Johnstone of Edmonton displayed the wedding gifts and was in charge of the guest book.

For a wedding trip to Banff and British Columbia, the bride donned a beige suit with white accessories and a corsage of red roses.

Tall white gladioli and pink carnations in baskets trimmed with white satin ribbons decorated the church for the evening ceremony. Rev. Edwin J. White officiated.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a slipper-length gown of Chantilly lace and tulle. The fitted lace bolero, was styled with an empire waistline and finished with a Sabina neckline and Lilly point sleeves. The full tulle skirt draped back to form a chapel length train. A panel of Chantilly lace was set in the front of the skirt.

The bride's finger tip veil of silk illusion misted from a headpiece of matching lace and seeded pearls. She carried a cascade bouquet of white roses, lily of the valley and fern.

The bride's sister, Miss Carol Forman was bridesmaid and Mrs. E. Kobelka, cousin of the bride was matron of honor.

Weekly Inspirational Corner

(Sponsored by an Irma Times reader)

And why call ye me, Lord, Lord, and do not the things which I say?

Whoever cometh to me, and heareth my saying, and doeth them, I will show you to whom he is like:

He is like a man which built an house, and doeth deep, and laid the foundation on a rock: and when the flood arose, the stream beat vehemently upon that house, and could not shake it: for it was founded upon a rock.

But he that heareth, and doeth not, is like a man that without a foundation built an house upon the earth; against which the stream did beat vehemently, and immediately it fell; and the ruin of that house was great. — Luke 6:48-49.

News Report From Edmonton

By Ken Mason

EDMONTON—The race is on to choose a new leader for the Alberta Liberal party.

Last week four members of the Legislature announced that they will be in the running for the position made vacant by the recent resignation of Edmonton lawyer J. Harper Prowse.

They are Richard Hall, Liberal M.L.A. for Athabasca riding; Abe W. Miller, M.L.A. for Edmonton; J. Harold McLaughlin, M.L.A. for Stony Plain, and J. W. Grant MacEwan, M.L.A. for Calgary. Their names were announced following a party caucus in Calgary.

For the record, here is a brief biography sketch on each of the leadership hopefuls:

Mr. Hall is a lawyer and his first term in the Legislature, is a native of Edmonton, but has been in Athabasca for a number of years, as merchant and theatre operator. He served six years as mayor of Athabasca before being elected to the Legislature.

Mr. Miller, an Edmonton lawyer, was a city alderman from 1951 until he retired from civic politics last year. He also is in his first term as an M.L.A. Active in welfare and community work, he also served on the municipal hospital board here from 1950 to 1954.

Mr. McLaughlin, also a first-term M.L.A., was born in Edmonton and now lives in Spruce Grove. He's a registered seed grower, has been active in the Agriculture Institute of Canada, and is an enthusiastic outdoor sportsman.

Mr. MacEwan, first elected to the House in 1955, is a former dean of agriculture at the University of Manitoba and has been a Calgary alderman since 1953. In the Legislature, he often leads the Opposition's attacks on government agricultural policies.

Liberal party officials said other candidates have been asked to let their names stand for the leadership, and announcements are expected shortly. Among names mentioned as possible contestants are Mayors William Hawrelak of Edmonton and Don Mackay of Calgary.

Of the four who have entered the race so far, Mr. MacEwan was the only one who had been mentioned previously. He is one of the more talkative members of the Opposition, and when he takes part in a debate his speeches are often lengthy.

Mr. Hall, on the other hand, is always brief and to the point. He can be critical without being nasty, and he doesn't speak unless he has something to say. As a result, government members listen attentively when he speaks.

Mr. McLaughlin also is a man of few words, but when he has something to say he puts it across in no uncertain terms. He often takes the government to task on fish and wildlife management policies.

Mr. Miller is the Liberal party's one-man command force. When he criticizes the government on any issue, he uses his quick wit, his sharp tongue and his nimble vocabulary with devastating results.

Premier Manning is still sitting on the fence in the midst of the battle over the route of the proposed new railway to the Northwest Territories. A delegation from the Peace River country met with him last week and asked for a "strong and firm commitment" in support of a route through Grimshaw in northwestern Alberta.

Members of the group said later they didn't get a firm commitment. They quoted the premier as saying that while the government favors a route Grimshaw "it could hardly go on record as supporting that route and nothing else." He fell back on a previous statement that the decision is up to the federal government and the railways. They apparently favor a route through McMurray in northeastern Alberta.

Linguists at the University of Alberta are working on an all-Canadian dictionary which will define words peculiar to Canada. The news came out last week at the annual meeting here of the Canadian Linguistic Association.

The new dictionary will define such Canadianisms as "Bennett buggy," "bonsie" and separate schools. Researchers are

A Report on the Nation's Business from Ottawa

By C. S. Smallwood, M.P. (Battle River-Camrose)

In this my first report to you from Parliament Hill I would like to tell you something about the Speech from the Throne.

The Speech from the Throne was very comprehensive and contained many points which the government will implement in legislation as the Session progresses. Some of these points that are of particular interest are a substantial Works Programme, measures to encourage the development and processing of raw materials measure to establish research in our Arctic areas, a measure to establish an agency for the assistance of small business, increased mortgage money, Federal payments to implement the National Hospitalization Scheme, measures for the assistance of Agriculture, the introduction of a Bill of Rights, and extended Unemployment benefits. These are by no means all the measures that will emerge, but the most obvious that will be placed before the House in the form of legislation.

It may be that a more important aspect of the Throne Speech is the manner in which the government suggested to the country that co-operation is expected from all branches of the economy to assist in maintaining the present level of stability. This, too, is a very democratic approach to many current problems, while at the same time allowing citizens the fullest possible freedom of participation without the added costs of some form of control.

During these first three weeks of the twenty-fourth Parliament the House of Commons has effected measures to grant "Interim Supply" to increase the amount of mortgage money to Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation and increased the period for which benefits under the Unemployment Insurance Act can be paid.

Concluding this first Report of the twenty-fourth Parliament I wish to extend to the citizens of Battle River-Camrose my gratitude for this opportunity to serve you and I sincerely trust that I will warrant the support you have given me.

Glen-Coa Gleanings

Congratulations to the former Miss Bessie Pedel and Mr. Brian Cressay who were married at Sharon Church on Monday afternoon of this week. The best wishes of the whole community are extended to them.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Egedahl and children of Edmonton were visitors last weekend at the Fluevog home.

Sharon W.M.F. will meet at the home of Mrs. F. Withall on Thursday, June 26th.

A large number of Sharon congregational members gathered at the church a week last Tuesday. The women scrubbed and polished inside, while the men mowed grass, etc. The result is that the church sparkles within and looks neat and beautiful without.

Mr. E. R. Erickson was a city visitor from Thursday of last week until the following Monday. He made the acquaintance of his newest little grandson born recently to Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Erickson.

Mr. Oren Spring is spending his two weeks' holiday at his parental home now.

Miss Lilly MacKay had last weekend at home, accompanying Mr. and Mrs. Don MacKay and family from Edmonton to Irma.

Mr. and Mrs. Graham Johnston (nee Pat Pedel) are also on holiday. Thus they were able to attend the Cressay-Pedel wedding at Sharon on Monday.

turning up fascinating gems of information as they delve into the origins of words. For example, the word "beet," used as "complain," originated in southern Alberta.

As part of the project, linguists will tape-record speeches by Canadian-born citizens in an effort to arrive at truly Canadian pronunciations without the influence of other countries.

WITH THE District Agriculturist

By J. S. Duncan

Watch Out for Soil Erosion

Land being summerfallowed is subject to erosion if it is not handled properly. Tillers and discers pulled too fast pulverize the soil badly and leave it ready to blow. Using the cultivator or other blade type of implement will tend to keep straw and trash near the surface to protect the soil. If a field does start to blow a bit, spreading a few loads of manure on the places where blowing starts will often stop it.

Insects on Trees

Again this year there are many reports of insects damaging trees and ornamentals. The insecticides such as Malathion, Dieldrin, Heptachlor, etc., are very effective against all such insects when applied as a spray. Watch for early signs of damage and be prepared to spray if necessary.

Weed Control

Weeds such as Toad Flax and Leafy Spurge should be treated now if they are in patches small enough to handle with chemical. Larger patches in fields should be well worked and kept black from now until freeze up. Other weeds which are susceptible 2, 4-D, such as thistle, stink weed, pigweed, etc., in crops should be sprayed as soon as possible. In the case of thistle it will probably be necessary to spray them again later on. Wild buckwheat and tartary buckwheat need heavier rates of treatment than the susceptible weeds and control will probably not be complete even then.

Going to Be Short of Hay

If the hay crop looks as if it will not be big enough this year, now is the time to do something about it. Green feed can be seeded now to provide extra feed. If pasture is the problem, a cover crop of oats can be used to provide extra pasture. Don't wait until it's too late and then complain, do something now so that no emergency will develop.

Safe Swimming

This year, National Water Safety Week will be observed throughout Canada during the week of June 15-21. With your support and co-operation it is the hope of the Canadian Red Cross Society that this project will help decrease Canada's dreadful drowning toll. This sheet lists a few facts to ensure safe swimming.

DON'T swim alone.

DON'T swim at unsupervised swimming places.

DON'T dive into unknown water. Rocks and branches may be hidden.

DON'T swim after eating.

Wait at least two hours.

DON'T swim when overheated. Cool off gradually first.

DON'T swim when overtired.

DON'T swim too far from shore. Swim parallel to the shore.

DON'T swim until you become exhausted particularly if the water be cold.

DON'T swim after dark.

DON'T panic if you should get into difficulties. You must think clearly if you are to do the right thing.

DON'T "duck" or push bathers into water. Playfulness may cost a life.

In the past 5 years sales of foreign goods in Canada have exceeded the value of Canada's exports by $2.5 billion.

SUMMERFALLOW EARLY

Summerfallow stores up rainfall; thus failure to kill early weed growth in the spring may seriously reduce the amount of moisture that is retained and stored in the soil. Plan to start summerfallow operations early, preferably as soon as seeding is completed. It will pay to do so.

Re: Scholarship Programme

No doubt you are familiar with the general provisions of our Scholarship Programme which primarily assists students entering first-year University. However, there is a phase of the programme on which information does not appear to be reaching students in lower grades in High School who might benefit from the financial assistance which is available.

Some High School students taking Grade X, XI, or XII studies and showing marked ability, may find it is not possible to continue with their schooling due to the financial circumstances of the family.

We have a 'Special Fund' to be used expressly for that purpose, from which assistance is granted each student, depending upon the circumstances in each case, who may be considered worthy by our Selection Committee, particularly to those who plan eventually to attend University.

Those seeking such assistance may contact this office, and an application form will be forwarded immediately. The awards will be made before the start of the next scholastic year. We are wondering if you would consider including this information in an early issue of your newspaper, as there may possibly be some deserving cases in your area, who have no knowledge of the availability of this fund.

Yours very truly,

FRED THOMSON,
Managing-Director.
